

NTU-FTA Series FinTech Courses

FinTech is one of the fastest-growing sectors of the modern economy, not just in Singapore but globally. It is recognized as a major factor in the Fourth Industrial Revolution. FinTech is a combination of the words Financial and Technology. It involves the innovative use of design and delivery of financial services and products. Keep pace with the latest financial technology and stay relevant in the current digital and global age.

- Online 1-day Courses with NTU Certificates
- SkillsFuture Funded Courses
- You do not need a Technical background

▶ Artificial Intelligence & Machine Learning

Artificial Intelligence (AI) can create disruption to many traditional businesses and industry sectors. Machine Learning (ML) can further enhance the capability of the bots by learning the preferences and behaviors of the customers that they are serving. Participants will learn the basics of AI and ML as well as how chatbots and AI can work together.

Registration Closing Date: 13 Apr 2022

▶ Enterprise Blockchain

Blockchain has gone from the esoteric underpinning of Bitcoin to a hyped-up technology that businesses in every sector believe could have a transformational effect. Many enterprises are now heavily investing in blockchain applications. This course covers the technological implementation of blockchain and customized enterprise resource planning-based solutions.

Registration Closing Date: 8 Apr 2022

▶ Big Data and Data Analytics

Big Data is already known as one of the pillars of technology in this modern day and age. However, its application, combined with machine learning, has exponentially changed the way the various industries uses data. Data analytics is the key to unlock new ways of having a competitive edge in an effort to manage the data transformation journey.

Registration Closing Date: 6 Apr 2022

▶ Payments, Digital Currencies and Cashless Economies

Digital Currencies exist before the age of Cryptocurrencies. It exhibits properties like digital currencies where it can be traded and used to purchase physical goods and services. Despite its controversial position as an instrument of trade, there exist applications where digital currencies can help.

Registration Closing Date: 14 Apr 2022

27 Apr (Wed)

Standard Fee:
S$642
Fee after 90% Funding:
S$72.60* (inc. of GST)
Click here to register!

22 Apr (Fri)

Standard Fee:
S$642
Fee after 90% Funding:
S$72.60* (inc. of GST)
Click here to register!

20 Apr (Wed)

Standard Fee:
S$642
Fee after 90% Funding:
S$72.60* (inc. of GST)
Click here to register!

29 Apr (Fri)

Standard Fee:
S$642
Fee after 90% Funding:
S$72.60* (inc. of GST)
Click here to register!

*10% Balance is claimable
via SkillsFuture Credit! (SG)

NTU-FTA Series FinTech Courses

FinTech is one of the fastest-growing sectors of the modern economy, not just in Singapore but globally. It is recognized as a major factor in the Fourth Industrial Revolution. FinTech is a combination of the words Financial and Technology. It involves the innovative use of design and delivery of financial services and products. Keep pace with the latest financial technology and stay relevant in the current digital and global age.

- Online 1-day Courses with NTU Certificates
- SkillsFuture Funded Courses
- You do not need a Technical background

► FinTech & Innovation

Fintech is the new trend in the financial sector. Fintech is reshaping how financial institutions are improving customer experience and developing new business models. Integrating design principles together with emerging technologies and new business models can help you engage your management team to develop greater value propositions and stay relevant.

Registration Closing Date: 1 Apr 2022

15 Apr (Fri)

Standard Fee:

S$642

Fee after 90% Funding:

S$72.60* (inc. of GST)

Click here to register!